Fair Ballot Project Internship

The Fair Ballot Project (FBP) is dedicated to reforming the New Jersey ballot so voters can fairly ELECT candidates running for office rather than "rubber-stamping" candidates SELECTED by Party bosses. FBP believes New Jersey voters deserve fair ballots. Studies have shown that candidates can have as much as 40 point advantages depending on where they are placed on the ballot and, as a direct result party bosses anoint their candidates who get prime placement. This nonprofit, non-partisan project is in collaboration with numerous organizations, both national and state level, to encourage representatives and candidates in New Jersey to support a fair ballot so elections may not be skewed corruptly.

Interns have the opportunity to work in specific groups (social media, press, candidate, and partner teams, website) that each engage directly to promote education, awareness, and legislative action. Each group has a team leader(s) that oversees that work. New ideas and creativeness are encouraged while collaborating with your group. The internship will require approximately 5-15 hours each week.

FBP is looking for interns that want to make social change and work with a team of individuals that want to inspire and help the community. This internship will be completed virtually, with team meetings each week.

Limited spots are available. The internship will run until the NJ primary in June 2021. Our interns can also use this as a school credit or resume building. Recommendation letters can be written for outstanding work.

Group Responsibilities

Candidates: Coordinate communications with legislators in an attempt to gain support, through the Fair Ballot Pledge, for fair ballot design. Recruit and work with potential candidates that want to run in New Jersey and support FBP.

Partners: Communicating with all organizations that FBP collaborates with. Keep each organization up to date on new projects and promotions.

Social Media/Graphics: Managing and creating posts for FBP's social media pages. Along with creating graphics and memes to post.

Press: Informing and communicating with the press. Updating them on the FBP and events.

Website: managing static and dynamic content. Writing.

All groups work together to accomplish goals.
