

THE CHUBBY'S PROJECT

The Chubby's Project is a hyperlocal non-profit 501c3 dedicated to food justice and building connections within the Hopewell community. Through our lunch program and food pantry, The Project aims to nourish the community's mind, body, and spirit by creating a full circle of connection between recipients, volunteers, donors, and food service workers. The Chubby's Project's signature effort is a lunch program through which we deliver hot meals and groceries three days a week to neighbors in need and soup deliveries once a week. Meals are made by Aunt Chubby's Luncheonette and provided to the Project at cost. The symbiotic relationship between the luncheonette and the nonprofit allows us to leverage the restaurant's infrastructure and supply chains to provide wholesome, nutritious meals and groceries to those we serve as well as to keep employees working full time.

An intern for the Chubby's Project will be managing volunteers, facilitating packing, processing produce deliveries, and assisting with social media. This person will collaborate with the Executive Director and volunteers in charge of delivering lunches. Interns will also be asked to assist with fundraising opportunities. Our hope is to create a symbiotic relationship where interns can learn about the realities of non-profit work, while forging connections and serving the Hopewell community.

Skills that an intern for the Chubby's Project ideally has:

- Preparedness and a positive attitude are essential for success.
- Timely email and/or phone communication
- Excellent interpersonal skills. There is a mix of crew, local volunteers, Wwoofers, and students on the farm daily.
- Ability to work in a high activity environment
- Ability to efficiently multitask
- A detail-oriented approach, with considerable attention to order and cleanliness
- A desire to build deep community connections
- Ability to work independently and collaboratively
- Ability to communicate effectively with people from diverse backgrounds and experience

- Patience and curiosity
- Experience working in a nonprofit setting is a plus
- Knowledge of Google Drive, Word, and Excel
